

Splash Surprise at Polkyth!

Hippo's interactive splash-pad is full of surprises...

Polkyth Leisure Centre is the latest installation for the Hippo Leisure team. Completing an interactive splash-pad and safety flooring area at the Cornish leisure centre has been a great success. Designed to replace a previous water feature, Hippo created a 50 square meter splash zone with embedded in ground water jets to create a range of low level interactive water jets.

Features include a hand activated "Activator" button to set off the sequence of water jets and sprays including two Jet Ways, two Baby Long Legs, an Aqua Arch and Mushroom Maze. The WDC control system allows the water jets to follow a programmed pattern to keep the children guessing which water feature will spring to life next.

The splash-pad was finished in Hippo's Aquatrol Safety Surface. A combination of fine grade EPDM granules, UV stable resin and Hippo's Aquatrol antibacterial additive which will prevent the growth of bacteria for the life of the pad.

Hippo's reliable team of Little Hippo's had great fun trying out the finished installation during the recent half term. It was great to see the Leisure Centre packed with so many children and families having a fabulous time especially playing with the new water feature. Thank you to all the staff at Polkyth for their support.
