

Hippo to revitalize Dalton with new 'Splash Zone'

It has been a fantastic year for Hippo Leisure who has successfully brought back the zing to many leisure centres who are looking to provide a fun and interactive water play environment and increase revenue.

Dalton Leisure Centre will be one of the latest sites to come alive with Hippo's striking play equipment. Bernard McPeake, Manager at Dalton Leisure Centre was looking for ways to liven up their redundant sauna area and enhance the facility to provide an attractive, family friendly experience. Hippo was chosen to undertake the project due to offering the best play value and providing the most interaction says Bernard. A 'Splash Zone' will be installed early in the New Year and will feature Hippo's 4 arm mast feature, a 4m snake squirt, interactive play panels and newly launched Squirtums.

Hippo's design will create instant visual impact. The products provide inclusive play for children of all ages and abilities. The older children will love the high level anticipatory water play provided by the tipping buckets and the mast's spray rail feature. The play panels and 4m snake squirt will provide stimulating and challenging play scenarios for toddlers.

Bernard hopes that the new play area will attract families from outside the area as well as increase usage by locals who are eager to use the spectacular facilities.

Hippo will be bringing their innovative touch to more leisure centres in 2012. An entire new range of interactive splash toys will enable centres to create a toddler 'splash zone' which will be cost effective and simple to install. A mix and match selection of toys available for building 'splash zones' will include play panels, Squirtums, toddler slides and Platforms.

The brand new toddler slides are ideal for introducing toddlers to fun play in the water and increasing their confidence. The toddler slide is perfect for utilising under used pool space in the shallow waters and beach areas.
