

Hippo 'Squirtums' help increase water confidence

Hippo have recently launched 'Squirtums' their latest innovative addition to their range of interactive water toys.

These vibrant stimulating toys have been designed and named by our Little Hippo kid consultants and have been specifically formulated to captivate young minds and encourage creative water play for the whole family.

Squirtums are aimed at children aged 2-10. They are perfect for introducing children to water by encouraging participation using the rotating hand pump to create gentle water flows. Once the water is pumped into the Squirtum, the water is released back into the pool via the interactive top.

Prices of the Squirtums start at £1300 (+ VAT and installation) and therefore provide excellent value for money as well as using existing pool water so no water supply is necessary.

Recommended water depths for Squirtums range from 100mm to 300mm. Installation using 3 fixing points couldn't be easier and custom bases can be built to accommodate sloping or uneven floors. Low maintenance and a 12 month guarantee make Squirtums a safe investment for leisure centres throughout the UK.
